Kiryat Shmona

is positioned on the northern front of the State of Israel and constitutes a symbol for endurance, resilience and Zionism.

Also during the most arduous of times, the residents of the city continue building, flourishing and believing in a better future.

We are today appealing to you to assist in the rehabilitation of one of the most important components in community security – public air raid shelters.

EVERY donation creates security.
renovated air raid shelter saves lives.

Life in the Shadow of the Threat

Since the war broke out in the north, the residents of Kiryat Shmona have been contending with a complex security reality that includes rockets and missiles raining down and sustained threats.

During times of emergency, the public air raid shelters become the temporary homes of families, children, senior citizens and people with special needs.

Therefore, renovation of air raid shelters is not simply an infrastructure project – but rather a project for saving lives and maintaining community resilience.

air raid shelters

One city, common responsibility

There are currently 187 public air raid shelters operating in Kiryat Shmona that serve thousands of residents.

The majority of them were built some 40 years ago

during a period in which security threats were totally different from the current reality.

Years of intensive use, natural wear and tear and a lack of renovation budgets lead to the urgent need for renovation and the repurposing of the air raid shelters.
